Communication

The majority of our lessons are on my website:

<https://www.hursthistory.org>

They will also be posted as we go along in Schoology

Make sure you are very familiar with my site the first week of class

I use the school email system a great deal as I send group emails so make sure that you check your account regularly once the semester has started and that you know your password. No Excuses!

Class Notes

I have no preference on note-taking; you can use your school iPad or take notes by hand.

If using your iPad, I suggest you use GoodNotes as all my handouts are in .PDF format so they upload quickly and you can edit easily.

If using hand-written notes, I strongly suggest that you keep them in logical, chronological order in a large, strong binder.

Quizzes, Tests, and other Examinations

In June you will be taking the New York State Regents Examination. It is a different format and covers global events from 1750 onwards. We will have covered all of the curriculum in the AP Course. More details will follow after the AP Examination regarding formats.

Quizzes maybe needed from time to time; I will email you with details in advance.

All tests, including the January Examination, will be according to the school calendar. Advance notice will be given on the material covered.

Textbook and Review Book

We will NOT be using the textbook in class so keep it at home as a reference and study guide for tests.

I suggest that you buy an AP World History: Modern review book by January 2024. There are several choices on the subject. Find the one that reads and works best for you, they are different.

I will discuss the issue of review books at a later date, once I have seen the 2024 editions.

Other Items of Note

I very rarely give make-up assignments. My goal is to get it right the first time so that we can move on as we have a great deal to cover.

Do NOT ask me about your grades! It will all work out favorably on your end-of-year report card. Please do not come to me about your grades, I will suddenly turn deaf!

Food and drink is allowed if permitted by the school. No three-course meals or the like and make sure you clean up after yourself.

We do NOT have a maid!

OH YOU TAKE AP WORLD HISTORY?

YOU MUST ACTUALLY LEARN STUFF
